Must Farm, a Bronze Age roundhouse settlement that was destroyed by fire in approx 950 BC, was named Best Archaeological Discovery and Best Archaeological Project. 2017.

This free talk to Whittlesey and local residents is a chance to hear from the Excavation Director about what it was like to uncover and process the occupational materials.

Finds include:

- Nine log boats
- A wooden wheel
- Bobbins with yarn
- Middle Eastern beads
- Fish weirs and eel traps
- Pots containing food
- Oak causeway remnants
- Roundhouse timbers
- Rapier and sword
